Our Good Father

Father's Day

"The Father of Heaven who sustains the universe, is your Father, who's always by your side."

Father's Day is fast approaching. I might be biased, but my father is the best. My parents divorced very early in my life, and my dad was always involved in my life.

I remember running around dad's house as a young child with my superhero cape and superhero underwear, watching my favorite superhero movies with my dad every weekend I was over at his house.

I only found out a few years ago in a conversation with him that he really, really disliked them. I asked why he sat through them so many times if he disliked them so much, and he told me, "You loved them. They were important to you. Because of that, they became important to me."

Actually, I have been blessed for almost my entire life to have not just a father who loves and cares for me, but a stepfather who has never treated me as less than wonderful. Both of my dads have watched out for me, taken care of me, protected me, and loved me completely.

No matter what I've done or how much of a jerk I've been to them at times, I've always known I could count on them to be there when I needed them.

When You, Then God, Part 2

Keith Chandler, Journey Christian Church

The Bible is filled with these amazing principles God wants to do in our life, but he's basically saying, "Your move. When you do X, then I will do Y."

God loves you and has a great plan for your life, but you're going to have to participate. A lot of us are wondering: whose responsibility is it for your life to change?

You ever thought about what your answer to that question (because we all have an answer)?

It's God's: I prayed a prayer, I got baptized, now fix it, God. Make my marriage great. Make my children like me again. Make my bank account full. Make sure the car never breaks down, and the moment it does we say, "God, you're not there! How come you didn't fix everything?"

Another Idea we have is It's Mine: I really need to read the Bible more, and pray more and go to church more often. It's all up to me.

Some would say It's the Church's: If they'd just offer programs, or do what I heard another church do, then my life would be better.

God's inviting us to participate in his plan for your life. It's not a solo act. It's not just on Him, or you, or on the church. It's a partnership. Salvation requires faith, but blessing requires obedience. God offers unconditional love, but his blessing is conditional.

Throughout the Bible, God says, "We're going to do it together. You're going to have to participate." God says, "If you will pray, then I will heal your land. If you will honor me with your finances, then I will get generous with you. If you will cast all your worries upon me, then I will give you peace."

It's like renting a car. You keep tuning the radio (but nothing happens). So when you bring the car back to the rental place and the attendant says, "How did you like the satellite radio? What?" He says, "That car has Sirius XM, didn't you turn it on?"

You say, "I had no idea."

He says, "You could have had 200 channels. That would have been fantastic!"

That would have been fantastic!

You were driving around with this incredible opportunity you didn't access. A lot of us are going to get to heaven and God's gonna say, "Before you go in, can I show you a few things I wanted to do in your life, but you were never willing to participate. I was waiting for you to partner with me."

Until next month,

Keith

Summer Daze

As this article is being written, it is the middle of May, and the temperature for the day will be 93! What better time to point to our next season... summer. I hope all reading this article will make every effort to take some time off and enjoy rest and relaxation with friends and family. Our children here at Hope Children's Home also enjoy some time off from school for the month of June for some R & R. With the preparations and travelling involved in the summertime, we often notice a dramatic decline in donations. We really don't think that people forget us, it's just the season that has their minds on other things. This article is a reminder of the day-to-day ministry that continues at Hope. We now have over 80 children in our care, and we remain grateful for all who give so that we can continue to give each child the care and love that they deserve. So, please enjoy your summer! Just remember that we here at Hope rely on your faithful donations. Please check out our website and find not only our daily needs, but also urgent needs. Take a look at our Giving Catalog and also the many ways we offer you to give to help us. Happy summer to all!

Is Your Body Turning into a Giant Marshmallow?

marshmallow! I knew I could raz him a little bit because my dad has always been a jokester. He said, "Noooo, not a marshmallow!"

I said, "Yes and if you don't want me to start to calling you Mr. Marshmallow Man then you had better do something! And if your body turns into mush because you have no more muscles from not exercising, you are going to start losing your independence as you get older."

He exclaimed, "No, not that!" I said, "Yes, do you want to be in a nursing home in ten years? People changing your diapers?" He was aghast, "NO! I never want to lose my independence!" Then he looked more serious.

I knew it was NOT what he wanted because he is a very independent man and his mother was 95 and still lived on her own when she passed away.

He got a more serious look on his face, "No, that is not what I want. Okay, I am serious. Wait till you see me next time!" I said, "Dad, you said that last time I saw you, you need a plan, not just talk." He said, "No, I am really going to do something this time."

So we put a plan together for him. I challenged him to work out at least two times a week and he has been doing it! He lost 10 lbs. and just went to the gym this morning. I love him so much and am grateful for him and I don't want to start seeing his body fall apart because he didn't take care of it.

I encourage you to inspire your family to do the same and if you are able to share this article with your own father, do so. "I love you, Dad, and want you to live a long, healthy life!"

For the ladies, if you want help stopping your body from turning into a giant squishy marshmallow, go here to set a time to meet with me:

www.SamanthaTaylorFitness.com.

I went out to dinner with my dad, who is one of the most amazing people I know. Every time I talk to him, he talks about how he is going to start working out, get serious about his exercise plan, and really do it this time, probably mentions it since he knows that is what I do for my career is help people get into great shape.

He has been saying he is going to get fit for many years and it really hit me when I realized he just turned 71. Isn't that bizarre when your parents start to get older?

That is what hit me, he's getting older and he is not doing anything about his fitness. His blood work is better than it has ever been from eating the way we have shown him, which I am very happy about, yet I am seeing him get softer and more out of shape even though thankfully he only has about 10 lbs. to lose. I always saw my dad as Superman and I still do.

He was in the Vietnam War, always did physical labor tasks outside, and owned his own business. And I always saw him with muscles, in good shape and active which probably helped me with my choice to be a trainer. But for a moment I looked at my dad without those Superman goggles on and realized that he is getting older, more out of shape and if he doesn't do something instead of talk about it, he is going to pay for it big time!

I put on my personal trainer hat and expressed my concern for him. I told him how if he didn't get serious about this, he is only going to get mushier and become like a big

Heartworm Prevention and Treatment in Pets

In the last article we identified what causes heartworm disease. I will now discuss the prevention and treatment of heartworm disease. Heartworm disease is easy to prevent. It can be diagnosed using lab tests that are inexpensive and take less than 10 minutes. If your pet tests "negative", there are safe, effective preventative medications that are available. Which prevention medication is appropriate for your pet will be determined by your veterinarian. It is important that Florida dogs and cats receive monthly heartworm prevention year round. If your pet tests "positive" for heartworm disease it is important to start a treatment plan immediately. If detected early enough, heartworm disease can be treated before permanent damage to the heart, lungs, and blood vessels occur. Heartworms, left untreated can be fatal. The symptoms of heartworm disease are cough, difficulty breathing, reduced appetite and being tired after exercise. Remember, heartworms can be present in your dog or cat before they show any signs of symptoms. Therefore, preventative testing is a must for every pet owner.

Pasco County Clerk & Comptroller Earns National Achievement Award

The Office of Pasco County Clerk & Comptroller has been recognized with an Achievement Award from the National Association of Counties (NACo). The awards honor innovative, effective county government programs that enhance services for residents.

NACo recognized All American Youth Art Walk in the category of Children and Youth. The program, in its second year, turned the public halls of Pasco's east- and west-side courthouses into eye-pleasing galleries celebrating the talents of the county's public school student artists.

"The Art Walk has been an important labor of love for all those involved," said Paula S. O'Neil, Ph.D., Pasco County Clerk & Comptroller. "The benefits of making sure the arts are part of every young person's life are clear and unmistakable, and we are grateful to our partners – Pasco County Schools and the Florida West Coast Credit Union – for helping us bring it all together."

The brainchild of Clerk & Comptroller Administrative Assistant Laurie Ansorge, the Art Walk has, in just two years, attracted 262 pieces from 246 student artists representing 24 schools.

"Youth art is so rewarding, it brings us back to our core, replenishing our soul, and reminding us of where we once stood," Ansorge said. "It exemplifies the importance of art at an early age, and opens the window of self-expression and creativity."

"Showcasing youth art enhances our lives, while giving joy, appreciation, and pride to our communities, to our country, and to our youth – our future leaders. It is my hope that art education remains an integral part of our school curriculum, it's so important."

Pasco Schools Superintendent Kurt Browning agrees. "Art is important to a well-rounded education," Browning said, "so the Pasco School Board and I welcome the opportunity to enhance our students' exposure to the arts by partnering with Clerk and Comptroller Paula O'Neil for the All American Youth Art Walk."

In March and early April, in conjunction with Youth Art Month, O'Neil, Ansorge and their partners hosted receptions at each of the gallery/courthouses for student artists, their families, teachers, dignitaries, and art aficionados. Highlighting the events: performances by high school musical groups, reaffirming Pasco County's commitment to art that reaches beyond the canvas.

"Counties overcome complex challenges, provide essential services and constantly do more with less," said NACo President Bryan Desloge. "We applaud these Achievement Award-winning counties for outstanding efforts to improve residents' quality of life."

That effort is ongoing. Artwork changes out with the turn of the calendar, but invitations to contribute are issued at the start of the new school year. Even now, Ansorge is gearing up for another season of recruiting budding artists and their teachers for the 2018 All American Youth Art Walk.

Nationally, NACo awards are given in 18 different categories that reflect the vast, comprehensive services counties provide. The categories include children and youth, criminal justice, county administration, information technology, health, civic engagement and many more. This marks the 10th time the Pasco County Clerk & Comptroller's Office has earned NACo honors.

NACo will recognize award-winning counties at its 2017 Annual Conference and Exposition July 21–24 in Columbus, Franklin County, Ohio.

Started in 1970, NACo's annual Achievement Award Program is designed to recognize innovative county government programs. Each nominee is judged on its merits and not against other applications received.

Matthew 6:9

This, then, is how you should pray

Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name, your kingdom come, your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us today our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one.

"Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. 'Honor your father and mother,' which is the first commandment with a promise, that it may go well with you and that you may enjoy long life on the Earth."

What Does The Bible Say About Investing?

1 Peter 5:7

A bunch, believe it or not. It's a major theme throughout the entire Bible. Spiritually speaking, the Bible has a great deal to say about investments and investment decision-making. For example, we need to be aware of five things in our decision process.

First is diversification, second is our long time horizon, third is what our professional counsel may suggest, fourth is asking what are our motives, and fifth is your personal perspective on things.

Next, we need to always be aware of the investment world's larger picture. Investments are a tool and not an end in themselves. Here are the four universal "Big Pictures". 1) Economic uncertainty is always certain—isn't that true! 2) Economic prosperity is certain only in retrospect. All the education and experience is still uncertain. 3) Economic cycles (ups and downs) are normal, and to ignore them is foolish and dangerous. 4) The future cannot be predicted, we just don't know what we don't know.

When you and I are looking at investing, we should be aware of some of the quantitative variables that affect our objectives. They are our age, our temperament, our situation, the financial climate, and the timing of income and cash flow.

When we are looking for options, they are not found in company names per say, but in classes and periods. For example, by time period, the dollar cost averaging, or by asset class—in allocation or by specific investment desires and even in geography—parts of the country or world and lastly, having professional help.

Personally, at the Willis Agency, we specifically focus on the preservation phase of money. Long ago we realized that we were working with many retired people and they just didn't want that roller coaster ride of the ups and downs with their life savings anymore.

I also found that everybody talks about making money, but few show how to keep your money.

At the Willis Agency, that's what we do, we show people how to keep their money. I just never wanted to be that guy who you call on Monday and say, "What happened to all of my money?" I just do not like that scenario. We also have a concept of having your money match your age.

So, all my customers can say that they have never lost one dime of money, ever! If you want to find out how to never lose money again and how to have your money last as long as you do, give the office a call to set up an appointment at 813-948-9109. In conclusion, I have listed several verses for your review.

Prov. 24:27, Prov. 28:20, Luke 14:28, Prov. 6:6-8, Ecc. 11:1-2, Prov. 15:16, II Peter 3:4, James 1:5, Heb 11:6, Prov 4:20-27.

Caring for you and yours,

PROFESSIONAL DRIVING COACH

Training your teen to be confident, cautious and safe behind the wheel takes more than a few laps around a parking lot or hours on a website. It takes dedicated, professional coaching in real world driving situations.

THE "TEEN DRIVER WHISPERER"

Having just moved from Massachusetts to Florida, we were shocked that no formal driving training is required in Florida to license a young teen. Having had an older child required to receive formal driving training in Massachusetts, we understood the importance and saw firsthand the long term impact of having this type of formal driving training. Driving a car is one of the most dangerous things we do practically every day and it is critical that anyone who gets behind the wheel of a car understand the huge responsibility that they have to drive safely at all times. Our quest to find a qualified driving center that instructed teens behind the wheel on actual roads was extremely difficult. However through word of mouth we luckily found GCS Driving Academy. There are not enough words to explain how unbelievable George Csanadi is at what he does. He has taught our daughter in a way that we never would have been able to. We refer to him as the "teen driver whisperer". George's relaxed demeanor has put our daughter at such ease that she is much more receptive to all George has to teach her behind the wheel. He has not only imparted his technical knowledge of driving on our daughter but also has made her understand how important it is to be in touch with "feeling" the car when driving. He has had her experience the feeling of stopping short which will go a long way when confronted with the situation when it happens for real. George picks up on the seemingly smallest of details and points them out for correction. For instance, head position and eyes when a teen checks the mirrors when attempting to switch lanes. He makes the kids aware of these little things without overwhelming them. George is thorough and covers everything. Not only has our daughter learned through these trainings but also we as her parents learned too. We do our best to mimic his terminology and demeanor when we are driving with her on our own as to continue to reinforce the solid base of instruction that he has already built. She has a confidence and awareness after only 12 hours of a 20 hour training package which is extremely reassuring. Watching our daughter progress with George's instruction makes us feel much more comfortable for that time when she receives her license and drives on her own. George is absolutely phenomenal and his driving trainings are worth every cent, because no price can be placed on a life. We highly recommend George's trainings and strongly feel these types of trainings should be made a mandatory requirement by the state before receiving a driving license. Our Good Father

In 1 Thessalonians 2: 10-12 Paul writes a perfect example of how fathers should raise their children:

“You are witnesses, and so is God, how devoutly and uprightly and blamelessly we behaved toward you believers; just as you know how we were exhorting and encouraging and imploring each one of you as a father would his own children, so that you would walk in a manner worthy of the God who calls you into His own kingdom and glory.”

After food, shelter, and clothing, the most important need that children have is to know that they are loved, that they are cared for, and that they matter. As Father’s Day comes near, remember that we serve a God who fulfills all of these needs for us. We don’t have to walk this world and face our troubles alone. We have the support of an all-knowing, all-encompassing parent whose only wish is that we become the best people we can be.

May God bless you today, and if you do not have a church home, the wonderful people of Christ Cumberland Presbyterian Church would love the chance to meet you.

Psalm 23

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

Give Up?

By Mike Holm

“Jesus told them a parable to show them that they should always pray and not give up.” (Luke 18:1-8)

Jesus could have been a master playwright! Fortunately for us, He had an infinitely greater mission. In Luke 18, He taught His disciples by means of a one-act drama. He might have named it, “Give Up?” He set the scene with three characters. Enter stage right:..

“There was a widow.”

The Bible talks of two kinds of widows. One is the “widow indeed.” She lacks older sons or near kin to help her. Since ours is self-advocating, this is her situation. Losing a husband in first century patriarchal Israel was a social and economic tragedy. Widowhood connoted images of a marginal existence at best and extreme poverty at worst. They were prime targets for exploitation. Should an unscrupulous scoundrel get hot on her trail, a widow was vulnerable to losing her family property, having debt repayment terms unfairly altered, and being taken advantage of in a myriad of other ways. Ours was the target of such injustice. Enter state left:

“There was a judge.”

To greatly aggravate her plight, Jesus told us the local judiciary was entirely corrupt. Her one hope against losing it all to a wicked neighbor rested with a town judge whose character Jesus masterfully summarized by the use of just two short phrases: “He neither feared God, nor cared about men.” This means he possessed a total lack of concern for the day of judgement (an intellectual atheist) and a complete absence of regard for anyone but himself (a practical narcissist).

“She kept coming to him.”

There were three factors in her case. Two stood against her. Someone was trying to take advantage of her. That’s bad. And the only person who could help her didn’t have any motivation or interest in doing it. The third factor overcame the first two. She had faith. Faith is spelled p-e-r-s-i-s-t-e-n-c-e. Factor one is the same for us. We face matters too big for us. But for us, factor two is entirely in our favor! The only One who can help us is entirely good, perfectly able, and longs to answer our petitions!

“For some time, he refused.”

The “he” does NOT represent God in this story! God loves you! He is perfectly just! He is altogether gracious and merciful always! He is infinite in power to help! He longs to bless you! And He LOVES to hear you call upon His name! Do you still believe that, Christian? Do you believe when, “for some time,” you don’t have what you asked of Him? His delays are not refusals! And they are for reasons NEVER owing to His disinterest or unfaithfulness. Don’t give up, Christian!

“But finally he said, ‘I will see that she gets justice.’”

Jesus did not say prayer is asking and asking. He said it was asking and receiving. He did not say it was seeking and seeking. He said it was seeking and finding. He did not say it was knocking and knocking. He said it was knocking and having a door opened for us. Persistent, trusting prayer in Jesus’ name (not selfish prayer, but God-honoring prayer) will always be answered in the affirmative by God. God said it. That settles it. I believe it.

“Listen to what the unjust judge says.”

If a judge with no regard for God or man would grant this woman’s petition simply on the grounds of her wearing him out by her persistent coming, will not God? Will God not help you? Yes! He will! Will He keep putting you off? No! He won’t! In fact, He will see that you get what you have asked of Him and quickly, Jesus said!

“However, when the Son of Man returns, will he find faith on the Earth?”

With such plain teaching, surely Heaven must be asking again, “Who hath believed our report?” The answer to that is unmistakable. Those who seek God persistently in prayer! Those who make sure there are strong prayer meetings in their churches and in our area! Those who shut their doors and pray fervently to our Father in secret! These and only these believe it! But, if the Son of Man returns this week, will He find this kind of faith in our town? His question, not mine.

Nothing honors and pleases God more than our faith in Him and His promises, a faith demonstrated by persistent, believing prayer.

‘Til we finish the race,

The FHM's "Rays Up Night" With The Tampa Bay Rays!

The Florida Holocaust Museum (The FHM) and the Tampa Bay Rays invite the community to come to Tropicana Field in support of The FHM on Thursday, July 6 at 7:10pm when the Rays take on the Boston Red Sox! For just $25 ($36 value), your ticket includes a discounted seat in the lower level and $5 from each ticket donated back to The Florida Holocaust Museum.

The FHM will be recognized preceding the game with a check presentation on the field, video showcase, and community corner. In addition, Holocaust Survivors John and Toni Rinde will throw out the first pitch!

John Rinde was four years old when the war began and initially lived under Stalin domination in Lvov. In 1941 when the war between Russia and Germany started, he was herded into the Lvov ghetto. He escaped from the ghetto and moved to Lublin, surviving the war by using an assumed name and masquerading as a Catholic.

Toni Rinde was born to Jewish parents and hidden by a Polish family when she was 16 months old. The family named her Marisha, provided her with false papers, and raised her as a Catholic from 1941-1944. When World War II ended, she was reunited with her parents.

The Rindes met in New York in 1957 and have resided in the Tampa Bay area for many years. They have two children and three grandchildren, one of whom is a pitcher for Emory University's softball team.

The FHM's "Rays Up Night" will take place on Thursday, July 6th at 7:10pm at Tropicana Field. For additional information or to place your ticket order, please call 727-820-0100 ext. 301. Tickets are limited. The Florida Holocaust Museum is located at 55 5th Street S, St. Petersburg, FL 33701.

PALM TREE TRIMMING IS ALL WE DO!

Just Palms
 Chris Tillman

As a longtime advertiser in Dunndead Publications, I just wanted to say thanks for your years of service. I've met so many great readers over the years, many who use our services year after year. Advertising in your publications is probably the sole reason my Palm Trimming business has succeeded over the years. It's the only place I gladly pay for advertising year after year. Thanks Kay for all the great service over the years, and I'm looking forward to many more years of advertising with you!

Protect Your Palms & Your Investment
